

CASSANOVA

A restaurant on the way to Daihatsu, I saw it out of the corner of my eye. The dishes were terrible and encrusted with fungus. I took all these dog bowls which were filthy into the restaurant which was serving Japanese lunch and I dumped them in the sink and said, "Please wash them like you are washing your beautiful plates. I will call the police because this is awful." I chose lunch time because it has an effect. Of course the police won't come but I said that I would come back every single day and 'I want you to clean these and give them clean nice dishes.' And a day or two later, and I got Cassanova, maybe I left one dog but they were so embarrassed because it was lunch time. I use that sort of timing.
