To whom it may concern,

Your urgent attention and help is requested regarding the enclosed video, transcript and photographs. The problem is self-explanatory.

This hell-hole is to be found in Nara Prefecture. The Japanese regard Nara together with Kyoto as the ancient cultural centers of Japan. But despite its historical aura, Nara is a modern day social backwater, as this video and these photographs reveal. The city of Tenri, where this man resides, and the Nara Prefecture turn a blind-eye to the squalor and cruelty and refuse to take any action.

The video focuses on the plight of the of the poor old man rather than the neglect of the animals. I appeal to your organization with its powers to summon the mass media of your country to launch a massive investigative campaign against animal abuse in Japan. So the government of this country is made to enact proper animal protection laws, to prevent further cases like this, from increasing.

P.S. Any public showing or use of this video would need prior permission of T.B.S. (Tokyo) and/or M.B.S (Mainichi Broadcasting) in Osaka. We could probably arrange this. The photographs were taken by myself and you may use them freely.

Yours sincerely,

Elizabeth Oliver
