

ISLAMIC CONCERN
FOR ANIMALS

All too often it seems concern for animals is confined to the Western world. Here is the book which looks set to do for the Muslim world what Peter Singer's 'Animal Liberation' did for the animal movement in the West.

Al-hafiz B A Masri, former Imam of the Shah Jehan Mosque, Woking, uses the sacred writings of Islam to show that man's true relationship with animals should be one of respect, concern and compassion.

Will members please read this book and use their contacts to see that it gets the widest possible distribution within the Muslim community. In this way we can act both to stop religious prejudice and promote animal welfare.

The text is in English and Arabic.

Send to Athene Trust, 3A Charles Street, Petersfield, Hampshire, GU32 3EH

*Please send me a copy of 'Islamic Concern for Animals'
I enclose cheque/P.O. for £5 (special price, post paid)*

Name: Date:.....

Address:

Recommended retail price: £5.95