

UNCERTAIN FATE

HO CHI MINH CITY — Two caged monkeys, prized as either pets or for food, await buyers at a market in the Vietnamese capital recently. Despite legislation to curb trade in wildlife, exotic animals and birds are still sold openly in markets across the country. These monkeys sell for about $25 each. AP PHOTO

2/6/94 Japan Times