Dear Elizabeth,

Just a note to say how much I enjoy receiving your superb newsletters, and your article in the latest issue - "Miracle: The Kitten Who Fell From The Sky" - is outstanding!

Delighted to learn that ARK has been receiving a great deal of media attention, as that's the most effective means of creating awareness about the tragic plight of stray animals. Of course, as you pointed out in your newsletter, it also leads to ARK being overwhelmed with requests to take in homeless animals.

I'm encouraged by the continuing progress in this country, and an increasing number of groups are becoming involved in the struggle to end overpopulation. There is still a long and arduous road ahead, but I'm hopeful we can end the killing of healthy dogs & cats in America by the end of this decade.

Thanks again for your nice note and newsletter, Elizabeth, and take good care of yourself.

Best regards,
