Dear Ms. Oliver,

Thank you for your inquiry regarding "In The Name Of Mercy," as referred to in the Jan./Feb. issue of Animals' Agenda.

Please feel free to quote from "In The Name Of Mercy" in the ARK newsletter. Due to receiving so many requests for copies, we exhausted our supply of animalines for that issue. However, I'm enclosing a reprint copy from another American animal rights magazine, The Animals' Voice.

In addition, I'm also enclosing a reprint of a follow-up article that animalines published on companion animals, "Bengals Neglect," as well as a recent editorial by the editors of The Animals' Voice (Dec., 1990) which expresses support for "In The Name Of Mercy." You may also feel free to quote from this material.

Regarding subscription costs to receive animalines, it has always been distributed free of charge to activists and animal groups. However, we recently discontinued publication in order to focus our very limited resources on the tragedy of companion animal overpopulation. If we resume publication of animalines, I'll gladly add ARK to our mailing list.

Thanks again for your nice letter and for all your efforts on behalf of other beings. I wish you every success in your important work and hope you will send us a copy of ARK's newsletters. I would also be grateful if you would let me know of Japan's efforts to address companion animal overpopulation. Our new address is: P.O. Box 1307, Freeland, WA 98249.

Take good care, Ms. Oliver, and let's hope that one day we will have a world in which all beings can fulfill their destiny in peace. Best regards
